VAŠ RAZLOG

Danas je 2022. godina. Što više napredujemo, evoluiramo i razvijamo bolje društvo, nisam sigurna šta je više ugroženo, da li ljudska prava, umetnost, vazduh, sam život?

Pandemija, masovne migracije, ekonomска kriza, klimatske promene, nasilje, prete nam više nego ikada. Sa druge strane degradirano obrazovanje, širenje informacija kroz medije i društvene mreže, tačnije dezinformacija, sigurnim putem uništava poverenje u stručnjake, nauku, čak i umetnost.

Postalo je u redu da svi imamo slobodu mišljenja o stvarima o kojima nemamo dovoljno znanja, a još manje tačnih, istinitih informacija. To nam daje legitimitet da razgovaramo i namećemo svoje stavove, da razmenjujemo mišljenja o nauci, medicini, ili veštačkoj inteligenciji, a da pri tome nismo dovoljno informisani, čak ni stručni ni u jednoj od oblasti. Da, imamo to pravo, to nije sporno, ali niko ne snosi odgovornost za moguće posledice. Niko ne snosi odgovornost ni za jednu izrečenu laž u javnosti, pogrešnu informaciju, aferu. Niko. Čak ni mi sami. Gde je u svemu tome umetnost, pozorište? Da li može da igra neku ulogu u ovom ujdurmi i pometnji? Da li građani mogu da se povežu sa bilo čim u ovom ludilu dok se bore, bukvalno, za opstanak? Da li im je umetnost potrebna? Demokratija, ljudska prava, građanstvo, dostojanstven život, sve polako gubi smisao, baš kao i sveukupna situacija na globalnom nivou.

A sve to mlađe generacije treba da naslede. Da li su uopšte zainteresovani? Da li se mi trudimo da ih doći? Da li nas je briga?

Trebalo bi da nas je briga. Trebalio bi da se svim silama potrudimo i da se trgnemo iz letargije i ideje da smo sami, da ne možemo ništa da učinimo, jer nema nikoga da stane uz nas. To je samo obična uspešno nametnuta laž u koju smo poverovali usled ove višegodišnje krize, ili naše tridesetogodišnje, jer smo postali izolovani, usamljeni, nepoverljivi u sve i svakoga. Nije da nemamo razloga za to, ali svakako se neće ništa promeniti dokle god verujemo da se ništa neće promeniti.

Verujem da možemo međusobno da se ohrabrimo, osnažimo i inspirišemo, posebno kroz umetnost. Verujem da je potrebna ljudima, i da jako možemo uticati na druge, posebno mlade ljude. Verujem da ako preuzmamo aktivnu ulogu u svom životu, u društvu u kome se nalazimo, i na svoj način, svojim mogućnostima aktiviramo sebe, zalažući se da i drugome bude dobro, verujem da možemo da stvorimo društvo u kome nije besmisleno živeti.

Promovisanje ljudskih prava na festivalu, kroz umetnost, je način na koji mi u pozorištu pokušavamo da podignemo svoj glas protiv kršenja istih, da se povežemo, razgovaramo, reagujemo na nepravdu i nađemo smisao, uprkos svim gorepomenutim potpuno besmislenim, ali realnim dešavanjima oko nas. I to činimo zbog sebe, zbog nas, zbog onih koji to stvarno ne mogu. Ako to ne učinimo zbog sebe, a onda možda, da probamo, zbog budućih generacija, nekih novih građana i građanki, nekih novih umetnika, umetnica, zbog... pa, sigurna sam da možete dodati i sami zbog koga želite bolje i pravednije društvo.

Dobro došli!

YOUR REASON

Its 2022 today. The more we progress, evolve, and build a better society, we are witnessing endangered human rights, arts, air, the life itself— it's hard for me to say what is more threatened nowadays.

Pandemic, mass migration, economic crisis, climate change, and violence threthen us more than ever. On the other hand, degraded education accompanied by the spread of information or more precisely disinformation through media and social networks, has led to a total loss of confidence in any professional expertise, science, and even art.

It has become acceptable to express our views freely on the subjects we don't have enough knowledge or even correct or reliable information about. Debating, imposing beliefs, exchanging ideas about science, medicine, or artificial intelligence without any sufficient knowledge or expertise in any of these fields have all gained legitimacy. To enjoy such rights is not in dispute at all. However, nobody takes responsibility for a single lie, incorrect information or affairs discussed in public.

Nobody takes responsibility, we don't do it either.

What's the role of art in the whole thing? Can it play any role in such mayhem?

Can citizens connect to anything in this madness while struggling to literally survive? Do they need art at all? Democracy, human rights, civil society, dignity — everything seems to be slowly losing any meaning. The whole global situation doesn't make any sense anymore.

The new generation is supposed to inherit such a state of things. Do they care at all? Are we making an effort to make them care? Does it bother us?

We should be bothered. We should do our best to wake up from the state of letargy and the idea of being alone, unable to make a move as there is nobody to stand by us. It is just a successfully imposed lie we fell for due to the lasting crisis— a 30-years crisis of ours- we have become isolated, lonely, and distrustful of everything and everybody around us. Such feelings are not unjustified, though. Nothing is going to change unless we believe it is.

I believe that we can encourage, strengthen, and inspire each other, especially through art. I believe people need so and I'm also positive it can greatly influence others, especially young people. I believe that we can build a society worth living in by taking an active role in our lives, exploiting our potential, while making an effort to make others feel good, as well.

Promoting human rights in a festival through art is the way for us in the theatre to try to raise our voice against violating them, to connect, talk, speak out against injustice, and find purpose, despite all the aforementioned meaningless yet real situations around us. We do it for ourselves, but also for those who are not in a situation to do so. If not for ourselves, we may try to do it for the sake of coming generations, some new citizens, artists, and for... well, I'm convinced you can finish my sentence in your own words, by naming those for whom you want a better and more just society.

BITI ZAJEDNO

Polako se završava i druga godina u kojoj traje globalna pandemija koja nam je promenila način života do neslućenih razmara. Istovremeno, mi u DAH Teatru se nalazimo pred drugim izdanjem festivala „Umetnost i ljudska prava“. Kada smo pre nekoliko godina maštale o pokretanju jednog ovakvog festivala, delovalo je kao da je upravo u tom trenutku tema ljudskih prava, posebno ženskih prava, važnija nego ikada. Na pitanje koje Amaranta Osorio postavlja u svojoj predstavi „Ono što nisam izgovorila“ upućeno publici „Molim vas, neka ustane svaka žena u publici koja je doživela nasilje“, na festivalu Tantidhatri u Kalkuti, koji je okupio žene iz celog sveta, ustale su doslovno sve žene. To pitanje predstavlja jedan od razloga za ovaj festival. Ta predstava se nalazi na ovogodišnjem programu. Zajedno sa radionicom Zoe Gudović, koja nam pokazuje, kroz „dreg king“ radionicu na kojoj pomaže ženama da naprave svoj muški alter ego, kako je javni prostor ograničen i skučen za žene, koje tek kada se preobuku u muškarce mogu da oseće šta je slobodno kretanje sopstvenim gradom.

Kako vreme prolazi, vidimo da ne samo da živimo u svetu gde su ljudska prava i dalje ugrožena na puno najosnovnijih načina, već je strah od pandemije učinio da puno nas veoma rado oduštaje od svojih osnovnih prava i ne samo to, već rado oduzima i prava drugih. Ukratko, ljudi su pokazali kako rado menjaju slobodu i jednakost za malo garantovane sigurnosti, pa makar ona rezultirala visokim zidovima, ksenofobijom, strahom od drugog i različitog. Zato je na festivalu i prezentacija Asocijacije „Spektra“ koja se bavi zaštitom prava transrodnih, rodno varijantnih i interpolnih osoba. Dok će nam muzički bendovi Pretty Loud i Angsters dati povod da razmislimo o štetnosti maloletnih brakova kod Romkinja ali i distopijskoj, represivnoj budućnosti, koja nas čeka, ukoliko se ne probudimo iz kolektivnog sna.

Istovremeno, instalacija „Kardiofon“, Moran Duvšani nam vraća nežnost i suptilnost u život i omogućava da dobijemo muziku koju kostantno proizvodi naše srce, podsetnik da je neophodno da uprkos svemu, držimo naša srca otvorenima. I da ne zaboravimo važnost slavlja života, koje nam pruža upravo predstava Artpolis-a „Artemidine lovkinje“ koja slavi večni, stvaralački ženski princip.

Kako se povezati u svetu gde gledamo jedni u druge osvetljeni nezdravim svetлом naših ekran-a? Mi možemo da razmenjujemo ideje ali ne i dodir, zagrljav, stisak ruke, možemo da delimo ekrane ali ne možemo da delimo sendvič ili čašu vina, u svetu smo gde možemo da se povuče-mo u tzv. Zoom sobe ali ne možemo da budemo zajedno u sobi. Verovatno je zbog svega ovoga naš festival upravo potrebniji više nego ikada. Način da razbijemo strah je da budemo zajedno i da zajedno mislimo, maštamo, planiramo, kako da naš grad, zemљa, ovaj svet, jednostavno rečeno, napravimo boljim mestom, da progovorimo o onima koji sami trenutno to ne mogu. A umetnost, kroz svoje načine, predstavlja možda najdirektniji govor koji se zalaže za prava onih kojima su oduzeta. Tom moći umetnosti će se baviti i konferencija tokom festivala koja će predstaviti filmove i radove umetnica i umetnika iz celog sveta.

Istovremeno živimo u izuzetno vreme kada, na globalnom nivou, postaje jasno da delimo pros-tor ove planete sa drugim živim bićima koja takođe imaju svoja prava, a to su biljke, životinje, reke, prirodni elementi. Film o projektu „Drveće pleše“ kao i prezentacija Lole Joksimović o pravima životinja uvode ovu dimenziju i skreću pažnju kako moramo da se pomerimo sa antro-pocentričnog viđenja sveta.

Živimo u vremenima u kojima postaje jasno da raznovrsnost polova, opredeljenja svih vrsta, različita mišljenja o najznačajnijim aspektima naših života kao što su zdravlje, religija, obra-zovanje itd. predstavljaju nešto što se više ne može ignorisati, nešto što zahteva konstantno otvaranje prostora dijaloga, susreta, razmene mišljenja.

Želim da ovaj festival da doprinos stvaranju unutarnjih i spoljnjih prostora slobode, koji su nam neophodni upravo u ovom istorijskom trenutku.

GET TOGETHER

The second year of the global pandemic, which has changed our way of life to unimaginable proportions, is slowly coming to an end. At the same time, we at the DAH Theatre are facing the second edition of the "Art and Human Rights" festival. When we dreamed of starting a festival like this a few years ago, it seemed as if at that very moment the topic of human rights, especially women's rights, was more important than ever. At the question "Please, let every woman in the audience that has experienced violence rise", asked by Amaranta Osorio during her performance "What I Didn't Say" at the Tantidhatri festival in Calcutta, which brought together women from all over the world, literally all women rose. That question is one of the reasons for this Festival. And that performance is on this year's program. Together with the Zoe Gudović's workshop, which shows us, through the “drag king” workshop, where she helps women to create their male alter ego, how public space is limited and cramped for women, who only when they change into men’s clothes can feel free moving around their own city.

As time goes on, we see that not only do we live in a world where human rights are still endangered in many basic ways, but the fear of the pandemic has made many of us willingly give up our basic rights and not only that, but gladly take away the rights of others. In short, people have shown that they willingly change freedom and equality for a little guaranteed safety, even if it results in high walls, xenophobia, fear of the other and the different. That is why there is a presentation of the Association “Spektra” at the festival, which deals with the protection of the rights of transgender, gender-diverse and intersex people. On the other hand, the music bands Pretty Loud and Angsters will give us a reason to think about the harmfulness of underage marriages among Roma women, but also the dystopian, repressive future if we do not wake up from a collective dream.

At the same time, the installation “Cardiophone” by Moran Duvshani brings back tenderness and subtlety to our lives and enables us to get music that is constantly produced by our heart, a reminder that it is necessary to keep our hearts open in spite of everything. And let’s not forget the importance of celebrating life, which is provided by the Artpolis’s performance “Artemis’s huntresses” which celebrates the eternal, creative female principle.

How can we connect in a world where we look at each other lit by the unhealthy light of our screens? We can exchange ideas but not touch, hug, handshake, we can share screens but we can’t share a sandwich or a glass of wine, we are in a world where we can retreat to the so-called zoom rooms but we can’t be in the room together. Probably because of all this our festival is needed more than ever. Because the way to break the fear is to be together and to think together, imagine and plan how to make our city, country, this world, simply to say, a better place, to talk about those who currently cannot do it alone. And art, through its ways, is perhaps the most direct speech that advocates for the rights of those who have been deprived. The power of art will be addressed by a conference during the festival that will present films and works by male and female artists from around the world.

At the same time, we live in an extraordinary time, when on a global level it becomes clear that we share the space of this planet with other living beings, who also have their rights, which are plants, animals, rivers, natural elements. The film about the “Dancing Trees” project, as well as Lola Joksimović’s presentation on animal rights, introduce this dimension and draw attention to how we have to move from an anthropocentric view of the world.

We live in times when it becomes clear that gender diversity, orientations of all kinds, different opinions about the most important aspects of our lives such as health, religion, education, etc. represent something that can no longer be ignored, something that requires constant opening of space for dialogue, meetings, and exchange of opinions.

I want this festival to contribute to the creation of internal and external spaces of freedom, which we need at this very historical moment.

RADIONICA/WORKSHOP

PREKIDANJE TIŠINE/BREAKING THE SILENCE – AMARANTA OSORIO (MEKSIKO, ŠPANIJA, KOLUMBIJA/MEXICO, SPAIN, COLUMBIA)

Foto Ana Manez

Ova radionica je namenjena studentima i profesionalcima iz oblasti izvođačkih umetnosti koji su zainteresovani da otkriju svoj potencijal kao stvaraoci. Učesnici će biti pozvani da istražuju i stvaraju scensku umetnost, posebno kao izvođači i autori, ali će moći da koriste i drugi izraz (muzički, prostorni, vizuelni, itd).

U ovoj umetničkoj laboratoriji daćemo glas onome što je prečutano, što nismo mogli da kažemo ili što su drugi prečutali. Pričaćemo o velikom i malom. Učesnici će biti pozvani da rade na svojim ličnim pričama, ali mogu izabrati da pišu i o vestima koje ih pogađaju. U radionici će biti malo pokreta, puno pisanja i mnogo priča za deljenje. Radionica će biti prostor za samootkrivanje i istraživanje, mesto gde ćemo tražiti reči ili pokrete koji nam omogućavaju da kažemo ono što do sada nismo mogli da kažemo.

Radionica zasnovana na feminističkim pokretima će se odvijati u aktuelnom kontekstu oslobađanja ženske reči u odnosu na rodno zasnovano nasilje. U njoj ćemo se osvrnuti i na nove maskulinitete.

Poslednjeg dana radionice pokazaćemo rezultat i prikazati dva performansa.

This workshop is for students and performing arts professionals who are interested in discovering their potential as creators. Participants will be invited to investigate and create from the scene, especially as performers and authors, but they will also be able to present other proposals (musical, spatial, visual, etc.).

In this laboratory we will give voice to what has been silenced. That we could not say or what others silenced. We will talk about the big and the small. Participants will be invited to work on their personal stories, but they can choose to write about news that affects them. In the workshop there will be a bit of movement, a lot of writing and a lot of stories to share. The workshop will be a space for self-discovery and exploration where we will look for words or movements that allow us to tell what we have not yet been able to say.

This workshop is based on feminist movements and in the current context of liberation of the word of women with respect to gender violence. In it we will also reflect on the new masculinities.

On the last day of the workshop, we will show the result to the public and we will do two performances

INSTALACIJA/INSTALLATION TI MORAŠ BITI ZENITISTA!/YOU MUST BE A ZENITIST! – DAH TEATAR (SRBIJA/SERBIA)

Interaktivna multimedijalna instalacija „Ti moraš biti Zenitista“, zamišljena za različite galerijske i muzejske prostore, promišlja nasleđe autentičnog avangardnog umetničkog pokreta sa naših prostora – Zenitizma. Uzimajući u obzir važnost kontinuiteta u umetničkoj tradiciji jedne zemlje i istražujući kakvi su danas, tačno sto godina od pokretanja časopisa „Zenit“, odjeci zenitističkih ideja kako u savremenoj umetnosti tako i u savremenom društvu.

Ideje Zenitizma: antiratne ideje, verovanje u mogućnost stvaranja novog, pravednijeg društva i odnosa, i posle sto godina su važne i potrebne, naročito u savremenom trenutku, kada se izgubila vera u mogućnost stvaranja boljeg sveta. Zenitizam nas poziva da se, inspirisani zanosom umetnika tog doba, ponovo okrenemo velikim vrednostima u čijem centru je – čovek.

Interactive multimedia installation „You Must Be a Zenitist!“, designed for different, gallery and museum spaces, reflects on the heritage of the authentic avant-garde art movement from our region – Zenitism. It points out the importance of continuity in the artistic tradition of the country and explores what are the echoes of Zenitist ideas in both contemporary art and contemporary society today, exactly one hundred years since the launch of the magazine “Zenit”.

Ideas of Zenitism – anti-war ideas, belief in the possibility of building a new, more just society and relations are important and necessary even after a hundred years, especially in the contemporary moment, when faith in the possibility of creating a better world has been lost. Zenitism invites us to be inspired by the enthusiasm of the artists of that time, thus turning back to great values in the center of which is always a better man.

UČENJE PO ZEDU – DREG KING RADIONICA/LEARNING ACCORDING TO ZED – DRAG KING WORKSHOP – ZOE
GUDOVIĆ
(SRBIJA/SERBIA)

Za nama su godine puna distanciranja, a sada evo nama transformiranja! Mnoge od nas se često pitamo kako bi bilo kad bismo sebi dopustile da se ponašamo onako kako se najčešće ponašaju muškarci u našem privatnom ili javnom okruženju? Da li imamo to u sebi? I šta je zapravo „to“? Da li želimo „to“ u svom životu ili ne? Kroz radionicu dregovanja zajedno „tranziramo“ muške rodne identitete u sebi i društvu i silno se zabavljamo. Pokušavamo da dekonstruišemo taj patrijarhat koji nas pritska, i spolja i u nama samima. Važno nam je da praktično zakoračimo u svet trasformacije, da sebi damo vreme, da se radujemo, igramo, i nešto novo o sebi naučimo. Radionica, u trajanju od pet sati, koju drži Zed Zeldić Zed (dreg king karakter Zoe Gudović) tiče se dekonstrukcije identiteta kroz tehnike preoblačenja i zauzimanja prostora. Podrazumeva kraći edukativni deo o stvaralaštvu i umetničkim intervencijama dreg king performerki, inspirisan likom i delom Dijane Tor (Diana Torr) i duži praktični deo, participaciju polaznica radionice koje pronalaze svoj drag karakter i na licu mesta ga oprobavaju.

Zed Zeldić Zed

„Svojim stasom i svojim glasom pomera planine, utaba ih u kotline, zalije ih sa visine, doda arome da ti srce mine. Baršunaste lepote, izvajane krasote, sirove i naivne dobrote, on samo za jedno zna: svaka ptica svome jatu da. Tako i Zed bez rezerve daje svakome što mu sleduje. Na-

jviše voli da se razmeće robom visokog kvaliteta jer on je šaner visokog pijeteta!" – Zoe Gudović

Lik Zed Zeldić Zeda je kreirala 2003. god. i od tad on ima svoj nezavistan život koji ih oboje vodi u neverovatne avanture.

Zoe Gudović je lezbejska umetnica, feministkinja, art aktivistkinja, menadžerka u kulturi, producentkinja i organizatorka. Ona je iz Beograda (Jugoslavija), a od oktobra 2021. godine živi u Beču. Years full of distancing are behind us, and now here we are transforming!
Many of us often wonder what it would be like to allow ourselves to behave the way men most often behave in our private or public environment. Do we have that in us? And what exactly is “that”? Do we want “that” in our lives or not? Through the drag king workshop, we “cut” male gender identities in ourselves and the society and have a lot of fun.

We are trying to deconstruct that patriarchy that oppresses us, both outside and within ourselves. It is important for us to practically step into the world of transformation, to take time, to rejoice, play, and learn something new about ourselves. The five-hour workshop held by Zed Zeldić Zed (drag king character of Zoe Gudović) is about the deconstruction of identity through the techniques of changing clothes and taking up space. It includes a short educational part on the creativity and artistic interventions of drag king performers, inspired by the character and work of Diana Torr, and a longer practical part, the participation of workshop participants who find their drag character and try it on the spot.

Zed Zeldić Zed

“With his stature and his voice, he moves mountains, tramples them into valleys, floods them from above, adds aromas to make your heart pass. With his velvet beauty, sculpted beauty, raw and naive goodness, he knows only one thing: every bird gives to its flock. So Zed unreservedly gives everyone what belongs to them. He likes to flaunt high-quality goods the most because he is a fence of high piety!” - Zoe Gudović

She created the character of Zed Zeldić Zed in 2003 and since then he has had his own independent life that leads them both to incredible adventures.

Zoe Gudović is a lesbian artist, feminist, activist, cultural manager, producer, and organizer. She comes from Belgrade, Yugoslavia, and from October 2021 she lives in Vienna. Since 1995, she has been involved in the work and research of informal and engaged theater forms. In her practice, she combines art and activism in order to change the existing consciousness and social relations. Theater educator. Performer. Drag King Transformer. Toilet artist. Worked, founded or was in groups and collectives: Women at Work, Act Women, Queer Belgrade, Charming Princess-band, Reconstruction Women's Fund. Lecturer at Women's Studies (Faculty of Political Science in Belgrade), on the topic of Feminist Art in Public Space. Organizer of street engagement performances against violence against women. Organizer of numerous campaigns for the visibility of LGBTQ +, women's human rights and people from the margins. Since 2001, she has connected artists from all over the world with activists from Serbia under the name “Women's Movement - Women's Theater - Women's Body”. Winner of the Jelena Šantić Award for a combination of art and activism. Winner of Befem's Feminist Achievement Award for promoting feminism outside the feminist movement. Ovaj dramski monolog ispričan je iz perspektive jevrejsko-irske građanke, koja je ubijena u holokaustu. Njeno ime je Eti Štajnberg (1914–42). Saznajemo kako je u njenoj mladosti, njena porodica napustila istočnu Evropu i preselila se u Dablin, pre nego što je ljubav odvela na evropsko kopno. Ovaj naizmenično nežan i uzinemirujući portret ljubavi, gubitka i brutalnosti rata, prikazuje često zaboravljenu ali izuzetnu priču jedne obične žene.

This dramatic monologue is told from the perspective of a Jewish-Irish citizen murdered in the Holocaust. Her name was Ettie Steinberg (1914–42). We learn how at a young age her family left Eastern Europe for Dublin, before love led her away to the European mainland. This by turns tender and harrowing portrait of love, loss, and the brutality of war tells one ordinary woman's extraordinary, and often forgotten, story.

ARTEMIDINE LOVKINJE/ARTEMIS'S HUNTRESSES – ARTPOLIS (KOSOVO/KOSOVA)

Foto Meddy Huduti

Inspirisana prirodom i lepotama sela Kukaj, gde je prostor i sve što okružuje ovu sredinu u harmoniji sa zemljom i nebom, započela je nesvakidašnja priča predstave „Artemidine lovkinje“. Ovaj kreativni proces započeo je posetom mirnoj prirodi, isceliteljki duše i tela i inspirisao pozorišnu rediteljku Zanu Hodžu, da stvari delo koje je u skladu sa prirodom kao boginjom isceljenja, izvorom života i neiscrpne energije. „Artemidine lovkinje“ su se polako oblikovale, personifikujući dušu samostalne žene izvođenjem paganskih rituala i iskazivanjem ljubavi i solidarnosti u skladu sa prirodom. Koreografija, muzika, kostimi i izvođenje glumica rezultat su emocija i osećanja koje je izazvala ova simbioza prirode sa ženom i umetnošću.

Inspired by the nature and its beauties of the village of Kukaj, where space and everything that surrounds this environment is in harmony with the earth and the sky, began an extraordinary story of the performance "Artemis's Huntresses". This creative process started from a visit to the peaceful nature, a healer for body and soul, and inspired the theatre director Zana Hoxha, to create a work that is in accordance with nature as a healing goddess, source of life and inexhaustible energy. The "Artemis's Huntresses" were slowly shaped by personifying the soul of an independent woman by doing pagan rituals and giving love and solidarity in harmony with nature. The choreography, music, costumes and performances of the actresses are the result of the emotions and feelings that this symbiosis of nature with woman and art evoked.

Film „Novi stanar“ biće prikazan na konferenciji/Film “The New Tenant” will be featured during the Conference

Film je nastao u okviru ideje realizacije koreodrame koja je inspirisana komadom Ežena Jones-ka „Novi stanar“. Virtuelni svet je prilično dugo „novi stanar“ našeg fizičkog, zemnog prostora. Granice između realnog i virtuelnog sveta postale su porozne, pretapanja višestruka i svakojaka, dok su rizici tog prožimanja dva sveta, dve suprotne dimenzije – gubitak humanosti i osećajnosti.

The film was made within the idea of realizing a choreodrama inspired by Eugene Ionesco’s play “The New Tenant”. The virtual world has been the “new tenant” of our physical, earthly space for quite some time. The borders between the real and the virtual world have become porous; the mergers are multiple and of all sorts, while the risks of that permeation of the two worlds, two opposite dimensions - the loss of humanity and sensitivity.

Ekranizovana predstava „Vremena lutanja” biće prikazana na konferenciji/ Video-theatre “Times of Wandering” will be featured during the Conference „Vremena lutanja” su napravljena od tri različita okvira izvučena iz skorašnjeg i savremenog latinoameričkog pejzaža, tragajući za trgovima razaranja izazvanog oružanim nasiljem. Ovaj video-šou, iako se bavi mučnom i sumornom temom, nastoji da je tretira na poetski način, izvlačeći istrajnju ljudskost čoveka koji sve podržava dok ga država ne podržava.

“Times of Wandering” was built from three distinct frames extracted from the recent and contemporary Latin American landscape, seeking the traces of the devastation of armed violence. The video-show, although it deals with an acid and somber theme, seeks to treat it in a poetic way, extracting the persistent humanity of the human being who supports everything without being supported by the state.

DRVEĆE PLEŠE/DANCING TREES – DAH TEATAR (SRBIJA/SERBIA)

Foto Đorđe Tomić

Dokumentarni film o projektu „Drveće pleše“ kao i film o predstavi su nastali tokom realizacije projekta i proba predstave.

Projekat „Drveće pleše“ istražuje pitanje šta umetnici mogu da urade kao odgovor na jednu od najvećih kriza sa kojom se suočavamo – krizom opstanka zdrave životne sredine čiji su direktni simptomi klimatske promene u velikoj meri izazvane i nekontrolisanom sečom drveća. U okviru projekta plesno-pozorišna predstava na otvorenom „Drveće pleše“ bavi se važnošću očuvanja drveća, dok digitalna platforma, veb stranica kao i film o projektu, nude uključivanje zainteresovanih u bavljenje ovim problemom.

Svedoci smo neumerene seče drveća u našem gradu da bi se izgradili tržni centri, garaže, gondole i ostale turističke atrakcije. Da li Beograd polako postaje grad betona? Podaci Šumarskog fakulteta govore da je u 2018. godini posećeno za 19% više drveća nego prethodnih godina. U 2019. godini se povećalo za novih 2% i tendencija se nastavlja. Globalno krčenje šuma nastavlja se alarmantnom brzinom.

Documentary film about the project “Dancing Trees” and film about the show were created during the realization of the project and during the rehearsals of the show.

Project Dancing Trees attempts to answer the question what artists and theatre makers can do to respond to one of the greatest crisis that humanity has ever faced, the crisis of disappearance of healthy living environment whose direct symptoms are climate change and one of the main cause of deforestation. As part of the project, the out-door dance-theater play “Dancing Trees” deals with the importance of preserving trees, while the digital platform, website, and film about the project, offer the involvement of those interested in dealing with this problem.

We are witnessing the excessive cutting of trees in our city in order to build shopping malls, garages, gondolas and other tourist attractions. Is Belgrade slowly becoming a city of concrete? Data from the Faculty of Forestry show that in 2018, 19% more trees were cut down than in previous years. In 2019, it increased by another 2% and the trend continues. Global deforestation continues at an alarming rate.

KONCERT/CONCERT ANGSTERS (SRBIJA/SERBIA)

Angsters su motivisani temama koje su do skora smatrane futurističkim. Setimo se Orvelove „1984.”, Kafkinog „Procesa”, „Metropolisa” Tee fon Harbau i istoimenog filma u režiji Frica Lang-a, ili Hakslijevog „Hrabrog novog sveta” - dela koja su još prvih decenija 20. veka upozoravala na distopisku budućnost ako kapitalizam ili komunizam uzmu maha, ako se čoveku uskrati pravo na reč, misao i privatnost a konce vuče država u saradnji sa korporacijskim glavama. Danas živimo taj strah da smo posmatrani, da „neko” o nama zna više nego što želimo, da su nam ruke vezane i da nam se taj „neko” podsmeva dok prosperira od našeg rada.

Muzika Angstersa je sonična naracija o ekipici iz kraja koja mašta da izlomi kamere po bloku, o čoveku koji zaboravlja zašto odlazi na posao, o devojci koja u brzini prihvata da joj web-sajt prati aktivnosti, o deci čije fotografije krase tetkin Fejsbuk. Muziku Angstersa prate inserti iz života ovih ljudi (bez njihovog pristanka).

Angsters' motivation stems from the issues that were once futuristic. Recall "1984", "The Trial", "Metropolis" or "Brave New World" - the early 20th century pieces that warned about a possible dystopian future should capitalism or communism ascend the throne, man's right to thought and privacy gets abolished, and the unity of governments and corporations becomes the puppet master. Today we live this dread of being monitored, of someone knowing more about ourselves than we allow. We fear that there is a "somebody" who prospers from our labours while sneering at us.

Angsters' music is a sonic narration about a group of friends that daydream about smashing surveillance cameras; about a woman who rushingly allows a website to track her activities; about children whose photographs adorn their aunts' Facebook walls. The music is accompanied by snippets of these people's lives (without their consent, of course).

Angsters je instrumentalni trio iz Beograda. Budući da članovi imaju raznovrstan i različit muzički ukus, njihova muzika se verovatno može opisati kao fjužn. Ili indi. A možda alternativni rok? Svaka pesma je istraživanje koliko i izražavanje.

Angsters is an instrumental trio from Belgrade. With the members' diverse musical tastes, their music is probably best described as fusion. Or indie. Maybe alternative rock? Every song is as much an exploration as it is an expression.

ONO ŠTO NISAM IZGOVORILA/WHAT I DID NOT SAY – AMARANTA OSORIO (MEKSIKO, ŠPANIJA, KOLUMBIJA/MEXICO, SPAIN, COLUMBIA)

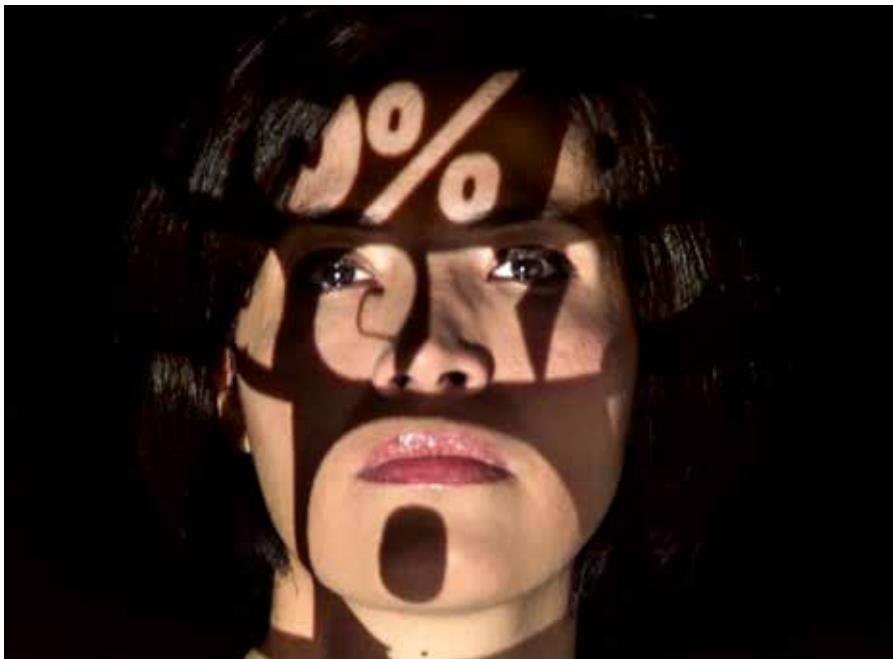

Foto Suzan Fuks

Ono što nisam izgovorila jeste višedisciplinarno izvođenje koje se bavi nasiljem i problemima rodne pripadnosti s kojim se žene suočavaju od rođenja i koji su u vezi sa njihovim telom, obrazovanjem, seksualnim zlostavljanjem, nesigurnošću i društvenom obavezom da bude lepe, tihe, nasmejane, produktivne i savršene.

Izvođena je kao radna verzija na sledećim festivalima: Festivalu Mestiza (Santjago, Čile), Festivalu Tantidhatri (Kalkuta, Indija), Encuentro teatro y feminismos RESAD (Madrid, Španija), Festivalu Transit, Odin Teatret (Danska), Festivalu Magdalena Montpellier (Montpellije, Francuska), Festivalu Tiempos de Mujer (Kvito-Ambato, Ekvador). Tekst je dobio pohvalu žirija Nagrade Dolores de Castro.

What I didn't say, is a multidisciplinary performance, about the violence and the gender problems that women face since they are born, related to their body, education, sexual abuse, insecurity and the social obligation of being: pretty, quiet , smiling, productive and perfect.

It has been performed as a work-in-progress at: Festival Mestiza (Santiago, Chile), Festival Tantidhatri (Kolkata, India), Encuentro teatro y feminismos RESAD (Madrid, Spain), Festival Transit, Odin Teatret (Denmark), Festival Magdalena Montpellier (Montpellier, France), Festival Tiempos de Mujer (Quito-Ambato, Equator). The text had the mention of the jury in the Dolores de Castro Prize.

KONCERT/CONCERT

PRETTY LOUD (SRBIJA/SERBIA)

Pretty Loud je prvi romski ženski hip-hop bend. Nastao je u okviru GRUBB fondacije na inicijativu grupe devojaka i mlađih žena od 15 do 27 godina. Romkinje su uglavnom domaćice, rano napuštaju školu i udaju se mlađe. Pretty Loud razbija ovaj stereotip. Stvarajući jedinstvenu muziku ponosno spajaju rep i hip hop sa romskim zvukom, a savremene i urbane pokrete sa tradicionalnim plesom. Kroz svoje tekstove šalju jasne poruke o važnosti obrazovanja, pravu na sopstveni izbor, samostalnosti i poručuju da rani brakovi nisu romska tradicija. One govore o svojim svakodnevним izazovima i nadama, diskriminaciji, ali pričaju i o ljubavi i ravnopravnosti.

Foto Đorđe Tomic

GRUBB fondacija (Gypsy Roma Urban Balkan Beats) u svojim centrima u Srbiji podstiče redovno školovanje romske dece mlađe od 18 godina kako bi svako mogao da ostvari svoj puni potencijal. GRUBB udružuje obrazovanje, umetnost i kulturu kako bi podržao dugoročnu društvenu integraciju romske omladine u Srbiji i Evropi. GRUBB-ov inovativni metod osvojio je prvu nagradu EU za integraciju Roma u Srbiji (2017).

Pretty Loud su dobitnice ELLE Style Awards za aktivizam.

Pretty Loud is the first Roma female hip-hop band. It was created within the GRUBB Foundation on the initiative of a group of girls and young women aged 15 to 27. Roma women are mostly housewives, they leave school early and marry young. Pretty Loud breaks this stereotype. Creating unique music, they proudly combine rap and hip-hop with Roma sound, and contemporary and urban movements with traditional dance. Through their texts, they send clear messages about the importance of education, the right to one's own choice, independence and say that early marriages are not Roma tradition. They talk about their daily challenges and hopes, discrimination, but they also talk about love and equality. The GRUBB Foundation (Gypsy Roma Urban Balkan Beats) in its centres in Serbia encourages regular schooling of Roma children under the age of 18 so that everyone can reach their full potential. GRUBB combines education, arts and culture to support the long-term social integration of Roma youth in Serbia and Europe. GRUBB's innovative method won the first EU award for Roma integration in Serbia in 2017.
